Full Stack Developer

Passionate Full Stack Developer with a strong background in web development, adept at creating dynamic, user-friendly websites using front-end and back-end technologies. Enthusiastic about translating ideas into fully functional websites and thriving in the ever-evolving nature of web development. Previous experience includes successful food service team management as a Team Lead, driving consistent 20% sales growth year after year. Achieved continuous enhancements in customer satisfaction metrics during a rewarding three-year period. Beyond coding, I actively explore new technologies, stay updated with industry trends, and find inspiration through discussions with others and playing guitar. Eager to contribute my expertise to a forward-thinking organization's success in a Full Stack Development role
